

OVERVIEW:

Band: Echo Nebraska
Location: Vancouver, BC
Genre: Indie Alt-Country
Sounds Like: Father John Misty, The Decemberists, Matt Good, Josh Ritter

BAND MEMBERS:

Devan Christodoulou
(Lead Vocals/Guitar)
Carly Frey
(Violin/Backing Vocals)
Mike Lauder
(Drums)
Dan Ponich
(Bass)
Andy Schichter
(Guitar/Keyboards)

ECHO NEBRASKA

BIOGRAPHY

Bursting on to the Canadian music scene in the fall of 2014 with the release of a music video for their first single, 'Hey, Allison', Vancouver's Echo Nebraska quickly gained a reputation of combining soul strung acoustic songs and subtle shades of Americana. Within a week of launching the band, CBC Music added the video to their list of Best New Music Videos for November 2014.

The band grew out of an organic, creative setting that turned into something bigger than they had intended. Vocalist Devan Christodoulou was recording an album with a different band, when he met audio engineer and guitarist, Andy Schichter. The two began to record demos which ended up becoming the groundwork for Echo Nebraska. After heading into the studio to record their debut EP, Send the Ships, they recruited drummer Mike Lauder, violinist Carly Frey, and bassist Dan Ponich to round out the lineup.

Send the Ships has charted well on numerous charts, reaching a high of #3 on CJSF. Echo Nebraska has played several shows across Western Canada and was recently selected to perform at BreakOut West 2016 in Regina, SK.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

"Built upon a dynamic folk rock foundation, Echo Nebraska has crafted a release as bright and aesthetically pleasing as its cover art."

- Natalie Hoy, The Permanent Rain Press

"Echo Nebraska has an uncanny ability to use instruments traditionally associated with country or folk music and seamlessly blend them into their own brand of soul-infused indie rock, with a flare for memorable pop hooks."

- Alex Young, Lithium Magazine

"Lead vocalist Devan Christodoulou brings a unique style to the show. The diversity in his voice takes the audience to new places as we travel with him through happiness and hardships. This band is as good on stage as they are in the studio, with a rousing live performance that would be a shame to skip."

- Jennifer Wil, TRU Omega

Release Date: 01/26/2015

Title: Send the Ships

Label: OSW Records (OSW001)

UPC: 829982158956

Chart: #3 CJSF, #15 CFBU & CHUO, #27 CITR

Tracklisting:

1. Hey, Allison (Video: BIT.LY/ALLISONMV)
2. Nice Philosophy
3. I'll Get it Right
4. Out of Time
5. Pilgrim